FROM OHIO TO CALIFORNIA.

An Interesting Excursion is Made in Ten Minutes.

THE WONDERS OF A DREAM.

Mrs. Helen L. Beatty Recalls the Glories of the Land of the Setting Sun in a Tale Inspired by Happy Memories of a Trip to the Pacific Coast.

As the hands of the clock on the mantel pointed to 9, I, Dorothy Dean, sat before the library grate one chilly evening recalling glimpses of the land of the setting sun, which a few years ago it had been my happy lot to visit. Lotus, it must have been of which I had eaten, for my restless spirit ever longed for more—more of the ocean, more of the mountains and more of all the grandeur and magnificence of scenery which nature, with lavish hand, seemed to have selected from her choicest treasures and bestowed upon this favored spot. In the glowing, trembling embers before me my thoughts took shape, and I again stood upon Sutro Heights, with the Pacific ocean and Golden Gate before me, the parade wall, with is statuary, close at hand, and the famous Cliff House below.

As I gazed the picture faded, the section of parapet wall upon which a statue stood, trembled and the statue fell. The little vision in the embers had gone, and I impulsively exclaimed, "O, kind Providence, should a substitute ever be needed for that place, while a real statue is being modeled, appoint me, I beseech Thee, that I may again behold the wonders of this land and the sea!"

I never fully understood how it all came about, but in a very short time after this I again found myself spinning across the continent happy in the knowledge that the ever beckoning glories of this Western land were again to be unfolded to my vision. On the train rushed with maddening speed. Over plains and mountains, through tunnels and across rivers, until we arrived at the bay. As we crossed the bay someone pointed toward Goat Isle and said, "How came the goats there, for they were on the island when it was first discovered?"

"Either Noah or Robison Crusoe went home that way," I replied, as I watched the white gulls fluttering over the water.

I marveled not at peculiar conditiors attendant upon this trip, and when I found myself seated in a car ascending one of San Francisco's steep hills, on my way to the ocean, I remembered the vision in the coals at home in Ohio and smiled as I thought of the missing statue. O! the sense of sweet contentment which came as I approached the ocean and wandered through shady gardens, with gorgeous flowers blooming everywhere, all bathed in the breath of the Pacific.

Winding paths led to the rock hewn staircase. I paused to listen to the swishing of the water upon the rocks below. Someone tapped me on the shoulder, and turning I beheld a tall man in uniform.

"Pardon me," he said, "but are you not Miss Dorothy Dean, the person who has applied for that position up there" At the same time he pointed to the parapet wall, and to my dismay I saw that a section of the wall was without a statue. I thought of my stout figure, clad in traveling gown and clumsy raincoat; of my umbrella and heavy shoes. Everything came crowding in confusion into my turbaned head, and with faltering voice I replied: "Yes, I am Miss Dean, and I did apply for the place, unthinkingly, impulsively. It was suggested by a little picture I saw in the fire one evening, never dreaming that such a thing ever would come about in reality."

"Nevertheless," said the uniformed man, "I——"

"Indeed," I interrupted, "my garb is not classical, my proportions are too generous, I have only a back comb where a Psyche knot should be, and, well really, I was only joking when I sent an application for that place."

"However true your statement may be, and I am quite sure it is entirely true," he answered, scaning me with the eye of a critic, "there is nothing left but for you to take the place, since we have turned other applicants away, because you asked for the position first," and with that he took me by the arm and led me up the wonderful staircase cut in the rocks.

Reaching those heights, far above the ocean, I was helped to mount the one vacant section of the parapet wall, and while I arranged the folds of my gown I listened to the uniformed man's instructions.

"Now that you are in place, Miss Dean," he said, "you will find your powers of endurance inexhaustible. You will live upon climate. The only requirement is to make no change in your position. No matter what the incentive, do not move or look back. Tradition has it that one woman was turned to salt for letting her curiosity get the better of her; the modern version is that she was turned to rubber. Beware."

He had gone. I stood as he had left me, with one hand in my ulster pocket, the other resting upon my umbrella. The sickening dread which had at first seized me when I realized the position in which I found myself gave place to a feeling of inward satisfaction that I could be in that beautiful spot and without interruption view my surroundings, and with this feeling was borne a hope that the sculptor who was carving the statue might suffer many mishaps, causing delay in the completion of his work.

The scene, bathed in the mellow light of the setting sun, entranced me. At my feet jagged rocks and weather beaten crags descended far down to the ocean's shore, broken only by the serpentine road leading to the Cliff House. The mighty Pacific, with all its secrets, its tragedies and mysteries, gently rose and fell, reaching far, far out, until it seemed to lave the rose tinted sky at the horizon, while through that powerful portal and past that faithful sentinel, the Golden Gate, stately ships passed in and out, leaving in their wake a shimmering path of gold from the setting sun, straight back to the Golden Gate.

As I gazed the sun disappeared, and lo! the moon hung in the heavens, filling all the land with mystic beauty. Birds were twittering a soft goodnight, and little children who had played at my feet were gone. Lovers came and repeated their vows near me. Those whose souls were dead to the beauties of nature and men who had given themselves body and soul to the struggle for fame and wealth, sat near, while the feeble and weary, the sick, the discouraged and gay crowds of tourists all were in this ever moving throng of humanity which passed my pedestal.

The night deepened. The seal rocks loomed up dark and gloomy in the distance. The moonlight touched each ripple upon the ocean with silver, a faint breeze arose, and borne on these "winds of the western sea" came soft strains of music and sounds from the Presidio, while the swishing of the water on the sands below lent a fitting acompaniment to the harmony of the whole. The hours sped on, and the sky became o'ercast with darkness. A stillness which filled my heart with foreboding fell upon the land. Something strange and unnatural seemed to have wrapped itself about all, and far away I heard the faint lowing of cattle in the darkness. That dark mass, the ocean below me, far down, was moaning and heaving, and then I knew. There were all the dread ominous signs which precede an earthquake. Ah me! whither could I flee for safety Alas! I turned my head. There came a rumbling and trembling. My pedestal shook, and in an instant I fell from the parapet wall upon the rocks below, far down to the water's edge—and I opened my eyes to find that it was ten minutes after 9 by the clock on the mantel, and it was the voice of the village squire in an adjoining room that said, "I say, Parson Deane, that big electric car that just whirled past sounded like thunder as it came tearing down the hill and must have shaken the very foundations of everything along the line."

This trip to and from the land of sunshine and bloom had occupied ten minutes, and judging from the remarkable speed and precipitous landing, the journey must have been made on a "flyer."

REFUSED EIGHT-HOUR DAY.

Dayton, O., Sept. 30.—The Cash Register Company refused the eight hour day to printers. It is feared three thousand other union employes may strike.

TOWN ON FIRE.

Jeffersonville, O., Sept. 30.—The business section of the town is burning this afternoon. It is feared that it will be a complete loss.

Card of Thanks.

We wish in this manner to thank the many friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness shown us during the illness and death of my daughter Elizabeth. We also wish to thank the Baptist churches of this city and Newman. We wish also to thank our friends for their kind floral offerings.
Mrs. Mary Miller and Family.

INVITATION TO PHYSICIANS.

Meeting at Hospital Wednesday and Thursday.

MANY PAPERS AND DISCUSSIONS

The Baseball Season is Over at the Hospital—Over One Thousand Bushels of Sweet Corn Used this Year.

The physicians of Stark county have been invited to attend the sixth semi-annual meeting of the Association of Assistant Physicians of Ohio State Hospitals at the Massillon state hospital next Wednesday and Thursday. The first session will be held Wednesday afternoon in William McKinley hall, where all the lectures and papers will be heard. Dr. H. C. Eyman, superintendent of the Massillon state hospital, will deliver the address of welcome, which will be an informal talk. Two papers will be read at this session and discussions will follow. A social session will be held in the evening and the place and nature of this has not been definitely settled, but will be left somewhat to the wishes of the assistant physicians attending from other hospitals.

The chief session of the meeting will be held Thursday and many interesting papers will be read, followed by discussions. Perhaps the most interesting paper will be that prepared by Dr. E. C. Brown, of the Massillon hospital, and entitled "Our Hydro-Vibro-Electro Therapy Department." Dr. Brown will show just what results have been obtained in Massillon during the past year by the use of a scientific bath system. This system has been installed in the hospital building and consists of cold and hot water shower and tub baths, electric heat baths with the use of electricity for various cases and a massage treatment, for which special apparatus has been installed. This latter apparatus is run by electricity and is the latest massage apparatus on the market. It may be so delicately regulated that the eye may be given treatment. This complete apparatus was installed in the Mssillon hospital a year ago and was the first to be used in the Ohio hospitals. It has been used in some of the Eastern hospitals and was there examined by Dr. Eyman. Now similar systems are being installed in two other Ohio hospitals and the physicians attending the meeting will be interested in the results obtained in Massillon.

The roll of patients Saturday showed that 1,350 are now being cared for in the hospital and that about one hundred are on the visiting list, the majority of whom will return within three weeks. Some of those on the visiting list will be discharged, but after another month over 1,400 will be on the daily roll, and this number is expected to be increased during the winter.

Plasterers are finishing up the new cottage, which will be known as No 5, and which is located in the south row of buildings facing the plains. The building is enclosed and will be ready to be used by the holidays. It will hold seventy patients.

The base ball season for the hospital team is over and another successful year has been added to the list. The team was defeated on the home grounds but once, when the Canton Colts took a game after a hard struggle. The team played at least one game a week during the summer and defeated the stroug Cleveland hospital team, which came to Massillon with several ringers. The hospital team was defeated on foreign grounds three times. The bowling season has already opened and the alleys will be the scene of winter contests.

Over one thousand bushels of sweet corn were used on the hospital tables during the season which has just closed. All was raised on the hospital farm and corn was served once a day during the entire season, with the exception of a few days when the authorities thought the patients might become tired of the daily menu. Requests were made for corn after one day without it and afterwards corn was served every day to be taken at will by those at the tables. In this way a few over one thousand bushels were used in addition to a great amount of vegetables of all kinds, all of which were raised on the hospital farm.

All the field corn has been cut and bright yellow pumpkins now dot the fields, and these are being hauled to the barns in wagon loads. Pumpkin pie is one of the dainties now served on the tables and this is served until the desires of all are satisfied.

Dr. E. C. Brown has returned from a few days' vacation at Kenton.

Several persons have been busy the past week gathering seeds from the summer flowers, which were planted in beds about the grounds.

As yet the Canton-Akron Railway Company has made no move to repair the landing place at the end of the line in the hospital grounds nor build a protection for passengers from inclement weather.

The Friday evening dances for the season have been inaugurated.

The apple crop in the hospital orchard will be light this year.

Rails taken from the South Erie street line of the Canton-Akron railway have been scattered along the branch leading from that street to the hospital, and will be laid in a few days to take the place of extremely light ones which have been used on the hospital line several years.

SOLEMN CEREMONY NEXT SUNDAY.

First Burial in the New Catholic Cemetery.

BODY OF FATHER JOHN BUERKLE

Catholics of Massillon and Canton will Take Part in the Obsequies—Pallbearers Will be Knights of St. John from This City and County Seat.

Canton, Sept. 30.—[Special.]—The members of the Catholic congregations of Canton and Massillon will have a solemn ceremony to perform Sunday, October 8, when all that remains of the body of the late Rev. Father John Buerkle will be consigned to the earth in the new Catholic bural ground, midway between Canton and Massillon. Ever since this beloved priest died some months ago his body has been lying in the Winterhalter vault in St. John's cemetery, awaiting the preparation of the new burial place, for it is understood that it was one of the wishes of the deceased that his body be taken there for final rest. The body will be taken from its present resting place at 3 o'clock on that day and at 4 it will be consigned to earth in the new cemetery.

The ceremonies will be under the supervision of the Rev. Clement Treiber, of this city, and it is understood that a number of priests, many of them warm personal friends of the dead churchman, will take part in the ceremonies at the cemetery.

The Knights of St. John commanderies of both Canton and Massillon will take part in the proceedings and the pall bearers will be chosen from the officers of the Knights of St. John, three of them being from Massillon and five from this city. These will include Captain Volkmor, Edward Ertle and Anton Crone, of Massillon; Captain Wagner, Peter Obringer, Louis Ley, Joseph Berg and Ray F. Harbert, of Canton. The members of Commanderies 206, 123 and 51 will assemble at Genoa, where they will remain at rest until the arrival of the body. The body will be conveyed to the new cemetery in a hearse, only the pall bearers accompanying it there. It is understood, however, that Father Treiber has made arrangements with the Canton and Akron Street Railway Company to have all the cars that are necessary for the occasion and that the Catholics of both cities are epxected to turn out in great numbers. The ceremonies will be imposing. This will be the first burial in the new place.

It is thought that when the cemetery is completed and the burial of the Catholic dead will become general there that the street railway company will have a regular funeral car, arranged for the transportation of bodies and mourners, and that it will be used by all the congregations of both cities. The new cemetery lies south of the tracks and is most admirably located.

BAND CONCERT.

Stanwood's Organization Played in the City Park.

On its way from the Stark county fair to Stanwood Friday evening the Stanwood band stopped off in Massillon long enough to give a concert, which drew a large audience to the city park. The concert began at 8 and lasted until 9 o'clock.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. JONES.

Wife of the Late David Jones Died Saturday.

WAS ILL BUT A FEW HOURS.

The Bursting of a Blood Vessel in the Brain is Given as the Cause of Death—Deceased Leaves Four Children.

Mrs. Margaret Jones, wife of the late David Jones, who died last May, died at the family home at 7 West Charles street at 1 o'clock Saturday, after a few hours' illness, during which she remained unconscious. The bursting of a blood vessel in the brain is given as the cause of death.

During the forenoon Mrs. Jones was sweeping in a downstairs room and had been feeling as well as usual, although for the past year she had not been in the best of health and had been at a water cure some weeks for her health. While sweeping she suddenly became dizzy and called to members of the family, who came to her assistance. A neighbor was called in and Mrs. Jones was placed upon a couch. Until the arrival of the neighbor Mrs. Jones remained standing in a doorway and was conscious. After being taken to the couch, she soon became unconscious and remained in that condition until her suffering was relieved by death. A physician was called, but human aid was of no avail.

Mrs. Jones was the widow of the late David Jones, who died last May after several months' illness. Mr. Jones conducted a restaurant in West Main street. The deceased is survived by four children, Nellie, Inez, Melvin and Horatio Jones, one sister, Mrs. Harry Waite, and three brothers, George and John Jones, of Massillon, and Benjamin Jones, of Canal Dover.

Mr. Waite is employed in Newark and has been telegraphed for. He is expected to reach the city this evening.

NEARBY TOWNS.

DALTON.

Dalton, Sept. 30.—A number of accidents have happened here the past week. A. E. Sander suffered the painful experience of having his right wrist broken. One of the bones in that member in some manner was broken while he was working with a barrel at the cider mill. Howard Blackstone stepped on an object on the road in East Main street, Wednesday, and it flew up and struck him on the calf of the left leg. Eli Hershey fell out of a tree recently and broke two ribs, which were set by Dr. Haney. Mrs. David Sander fell at her home in North Mill street and injured her side.

Willis Sellers has moved his household goods to this place from East Liverpool, and will occupy the Eckhart property in West Main street.

T. C. Hunsicker, cashier of the First National bank of this place, was appointed receiver of the Smithville bank, which has been closed.

David Sander is reparing his property in North Mill street.

A large number from this place attended the Wooster and Canton fairs this week.

M. F. McDowell received his buckboard automobile on Monday and is giving it a thorough test.

Mrs. William Engle and daughter, Maud Gilbert, left Wednesday for Chicago on a visit with relatives.

Elem Martin, of this place, has been granted a patent on his store service ladder which he has made for use in his father's hardware store here. It is very serviceable and of simple construction, but well worth the value of its inventor's genius.

Grald Heibner is working in a Wooster newspaper office.

CLIMATE AND CROPS.

Light Frost in West—Wheat Seeding General.

The Ohio section of the weather bureau's climate and crop report for the week ending September 25 is as follow Weather favorable; light frost in west, but little damage; corn cutting general, but stalks from frost, crop good; wheat seeding general, ground in good condition, seed germinating quickly; clover seed poor; pastures, gardens and buckwheat good; tobacco mostly harvested and curing well; potatoes poor, decay increasing; apples very poor.

"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwell, Conn.

PRESIDENT OFF FOR WASHINGTON

Cheering Neighbors at Oyster Bay Station.

THE LATEST NEWS BY WIRE.

Three Men Burned to Death in a New York Tenement Fire—Morton Monument to be Unveiled October 14.

Oyster Bay, Sept 30.—With good wishes and amid the cheering of neighbors, President Roosevelt left Oyster Bay this morning for Washington. Residences and business buildings were decorated. Over the entrance of the waiting room at the railroad station a white dove perched on the American shield had been placed; beneath this emblem was the word "Peace," and the whole was entwined with the Russian and Japanese national colors Scores of school children were massed around the platform, each waving a small American flag. Twenty young women stood on the platform attired in red, white and blue and sang "God be with You Till We Meet gain" as Roosevelt boarded the train.

On the way to the station the axle of the Preisdent's carriage broke but no one was injured.

New York, Sept. 30.—The presidential party left Jersey City this afternoon.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH.

Bad Fire in a New York Lodging House.

New York, Sept. 30.—Two men were burned to death, a third so badly burned that he died in the hospital, another is in a dangerous condition, and several others were seriously, but probably not fatally injured, in a fire in a two story saloon, restaurant and lodging house in West street. The dead are John McMahon, 30, longshoreman; Robert Vaughn, 22, longshoreman; William McClelland, 32, sailor.

Patrick Dowd died later.

OCTOBER 14 SET.

Date for Unveiling Secretary Morton's Monument.

Nebraska City, Neb., Sept. 30.—The Arbor Day Memorial Association has decided on October 14 as the date for the unveiling of the monument of J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture during the last Cleveland administration, and founder of Arbor day. The principal speaker is to be former President Grover Cleveland.

ITS FOURTH WEEK.

Grand Jury to Have a Record Breaking Business.

Canton, Sept. 30.—Next week will commence the fourth one for the present grand jury and it is understood that more indictments will be found at this session than were ever known in the history of Stark county. Hundreds of witnesses have been examined. An expert accountant brought here from Cleveland for a few days' work relative to the affairs of the defunct State bank was paid $400 for his services, but this was not settled by the county.

ONE MAN ACQUITTED.

Five Other Lynchers May Not be Tried.

Springfield, O., Sept. 30.—James O'Brien was acquitted last night of complicity in the lynching of Richard Dixon. O'Brien was one of six indicted for complicity in lynching, and the second to be tried and acquitted. Court officials say that the others indicted will probably never be tried.

CAPTAIN DRAVO DEAD.

Beaver, Pa., Sept. 30.—Captain John F. Dravo, aged 86, a prominent and wealthy river man, known as "Dean of the Waters," died this morning after a long illness from cancer of the stomach.

MAIL DRIVERS SATISFIED.

New York, Sept. 30.—The mail wagon drivers will return to work tonight. The union's agent says the men get practically what they struck for

The army canteen was unanimously indorsed at the meeting of military surgeons in Detroit this week, the final session being marked by the adoption of a resolution requesting the secretary of war to use every influence for the re-establishment of the canteen and declaring that its abolition had resulted in a marked increase in intemperance among the soldiers.

Mr. Wilson, secretary of agriculture, says: "The greatest good to all classes of society comes when we have full crops. The price of each pound and bushel of individual products may not be so high in consequence. In fact, it is my belief that they will not. But, at any rate, the full crops will mean more pounds and more bushels, and that should make for reduced prices under normal and average conditions of supply and demand.'

The detailed statement of the financial transactions of the county commissioners which appeared in Thursday's Independent, shows that the sum of $1,426.45 was allowed for sheep claims during the past year. In dealing with sheep destroying dogs we are evidently misdirecting our efforts and the expense continues with prospects of indefinite expansion. It would be more humane and less expensive to save the sheep than to tolerate the existence of a lot of worthless dogs. The laws regulating the keeping of dogs are not stringent enough. The Independnt hopes that a bill, properly introduced, will be offered for enactment in the near future that will meet the situation adequately. We might copy largely from the methods in vogue at Eveleth, Minn., a town with a population of four thousand, mainly Swedish, where an officer, armed with a Winchester, dispatches all the stray dogs in the streets.

SLANDERS SURELY ALL HAVE A SINGLE SOURCE.

More poisonous and deadly than the mosquitoes which spread the yellow fever in New Orleans and the South, and the flies which carried fatal infection of fevers, in the soldiers' camps in the Spanish-American war, are the slanders that have marked the present campaign against the Republican party. Without central breeding spots in which to gather their poison, and from which to spread it abroad, the insects that have ctused so much suffering and death would not even exist. In the same way these slanders come from a common source, and their poisonous existence is proof of their having some central place of origin.

Where else could all this mass of mischievous untruth come from so suddenly and simultaneously all over the state, attacking Governor Herrick with bitterest personality in order to strike the Republican party through him, except from the one organization whose leaders have been busy for nearly two years, saying everything and doing everything that they could against him, utterly regardless of all truth? The Anti-Saloon league organ and its commanders can not escape from the logic of these facts. Their public attacks upon Governor Herrick, impugning his character and maligning his motives, afford complete confirmation

Now that they see that the storm of public wrath is rising, they are trying to escape from the consequences of their own conduct They put up the pitiful plea, absolute in its absurdity, that Governor Herrick's friends have faked up these stories to manufacture false sympathy for him Any man or newspaper talking that way simply shows a lack of the backbone of the people of Ohio that will be deservedly disgusted.

MINORITY REJECT WHAT THEY EXPECT OF MAJORITY.

"Under Republican guidance the nation has prospered in a degree that is the marvel of the friends of Republican institutions at home and abroad" This telling sentence is from the short, strong platform in which the Republicans of Van Wert county in county convention well say that they "have every right to congratulate ourselves and our countrymen upon the achievements of the Republican party."

They "reaffirm, unequivocally, both the Republican national platform of 1904 and the state platform of 1905" They have a good right to do this, as have the Republicans of Ohio everywhere, for as the men of Van Wert justly state: "Every pledge made by the party has been fulfilled. For more than two generations it has commanded the confidence of the American people in a degree never equalled in the history of the country"

It is the overwhelming majority of that party in this state that finds itself confronted by a minority of misled men, numbering not one-sixth of the party's entire strength according to the strongest claims of even the organizers of that minority Had they prevailed within the party they would have expected every other member of the party to do whatever they wanted to have done Having been defeated by more than five to one, they are now making common cause with the common enemy to defeat and disrupt their own party, inflicting injuries that will outlast the entire present generation

When Theodore Roosevelt was governor of New York the legislature of that commonwealth enacted what was known as the "state franchise tax law." That measure proved to be so crudely constructed and ineffective that Governor Roosevelt was perforce compelled to call the legislature in extraordinary session and to have substitute amendments submitted by himself adopted before the law could be made operative and constitutional. Of course he was maligned by a great portion of the state press and his motives misrepresented and misconstrued by his opponents and even by quite a percentage of his own political party members, but he saved the law and benefited the people in general of the entire state by millions of revenue yearly.

So it is in the case of Governor Herrick, who is just the same way, by the changes he secured in it, according to the opinion of numbers of persons well versed in legal ethics, saved the Brannock law from being declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of the state And yet the Anti-Saloon bosses would have the people of Ohio believe that Governor Herrick committed an absolutely unprecedented and unpardonable act in doing to the Brannock law in Ohio really far less than Roosevelt did for the franchise tax law in New York.

CUTTING OFF THE HEAD COUNTS.

The absurdity and mischief in the point of real Republicanism of the talk about helping the party by defeating its principal candidate, the only one by whose vote all party gains or losses will ever be reckoned, was aptly put by A. S. Ferguson of Hoytville in talking with a friend who spoke in the way mentioned The gentleman in question claimed to be scared by the Cox bugaboo. He said that he liked the balance of the Republican ticket, but that the head of it he would cut off. To this Mr Ferguson said:

"Let us work at that now Suppose I should say to you, I like your body, but can't go your head, and will cut it off, what would your body be worth? Why, it wouldn't make a beverage fit for a Prohibitionist to drink."

This homely putting of the case covers it quite completely.

CAN PATTISON BUNCO REAL TEMPERANCE MEN?

A letter from West Mansfield, Logan county, O., speaking about a Sunday stump speech in that place, makes some pertinent comments called out by what was said on that occasion. Says the writer:

"The Democratic aid society (Anti-Saloon league) was supposed to have called a temperance meeting at this place for Sunday night, Aug. 6, but the speaker side-tracked the temperance cause and the defeat of Governor Herrick's re-election became the question of the hour.

"The real temperance people are not to be buncoed by such hoodooism and fetichism when an Anti-Saloon leaguer says that he is going to vote for J. M. Pattison for temperance when he is surrounded with the liquor element he has with him on his ticket. If J. M. Pattison is such a temperance man as they claim he is, why does he permit himself to ride in the same boat with Brewer Mason?

"Patterson has no expressed convictions on the temperance question. What promise have the Anti-Saloon league that Pattison will fight their battles for temperance if elected? Here are Pattison's own words in his speech of acceptance, which leaves him absolutely free to turn them down if they elect him:

"'As the candidate of the great Democratic party, I shall make no pledges to any association or individuals, league or anti-league, organized for the accomplishment of any particular purpose or for the promotion of any special interests, however worthy or however unworthy I may believe the purpose to be.'

"The very thing that the Anti-Saloon league knows Pattison for is the very thing on which he absolutely refuses to stand. 'Oh' consistency, thou art a jewel' We have no way of judging the future, but by the past. Judging the future by the past, we wish to know what there has been in the record of the Democratic party that justifies the faintest hope for temperance?

"If many such meetings are held as was held here Sunday night, the Republican party will not have to do much campaign work, just let the Democratic Aid society do it for them. There is expected to be another Parker comedy in November."

WHY WOULD PATTISON BE BETTER THAN BISHOP?

"The Democratic Newspaper of Ohio," the Columbus Press Post, in a series of shrieks uttering false cries about things pertaining to the Ohio campaign, makes this expression, which is a sample of the lot:

"Do the people 'want to change?' Do they want the appointments of the state institutions to be made because of the efficiency of candidates, or do they want these appointments dictated by a party boss who, in order to pay certain political obligations, will elevate inefficient politicians to state positions?"

This is a very apt question when correctly considered. Never since Ohio was a state were its public institutions more efficiently or economically administered than under Governor Herrick. The Democratic campaign has had weeks to specify a single significant failure in this respect. Not one has been pointed out. Every day's delay in doing it strengthens the proof of its impossibility. "Efficiency of candidates" is in operation in the state institutions, and there can be no general political change therein without increased cost to the taxpayers and immense harm to the inmates.

Should Pattison be elected, the same conditions would come about that occurred with every Democratic brief restoration to power. His "hungry and thirsty" supporters would insist upon recognition. Once more Ohio would see such an upheaval in the state institutions as made them a by-word and a reproach under Governor Bishop, who was another good man from Cincinnati. Is Pattison any better than Bishop? Will the former any less than the latter have "these appointments dictated by a party boss, who, in order to pay certain political obligations, will elevate inefficient politicians to state positions?"

A SKULKING CAMPAIGN PATTISON'S HOPE.

" Make your campaign as much of a still hunt as possible. Make few speeches until just before the election. Don't be aggressive in declaring what you will do if elected governor. Be conciliatory toward all elements in the Democratic party Devote most of your time to organization work."

"Such," says the Cincinnati Commercial- Tribune, "if not the exact language used by him, is understood to be the substance of the advice which William J. Bryan gave John M. Pattison when they met last week at the Miami Valley Chautauqua. The Democratic candidate for governor asked Bryan his opinion as to the kind of a campaign that would be most advisable in Ohio this year and the Nebraskan unhesitatingly advised against anything approaching a 'hurrah' campaign.

"Bryan argued, it is said, that if Pattison took the stump and made many speeches he would in all probability merely supply the Republicans with ammunition with which to fight back. He gave it as his opinion that there was a growing sentiment in Ohio which, if fostered by the Democratic press and by local speakers, would make Pattison more votes than any kind of an aggressive speaking campaign which the governor could possibly make."

If the Brannock bill is a campaign issue, what is the Democratic party's position upon it?—Batavia (O.) Republican.

How to Use Tricks In Football

Avoid Fumbles --- Double Pass a Leading Factor. Halfbacks Around Either End---The Crisscross a Deceptive Play. The Fake Kick.

The value of well executed trick plays is apparent to every follower of football. But they should not be used very often—only occasionally, when it seems possible to catch an opposing team off its guard.

First will be described trick plays in which double passes take place. The best known form of the double pass occurs when the quarterback passes the ball to one man, and he in turn passes it to another, who is dependent on to advance it.

DIAGRAM NO. 1 A DOUBLE PASS TRICK FOR HALFBACKS.

A double pass trick developed and used with great success at Princeton is as follows:

The usual scrimmage lineup is formed, and the ball is passed to the right halfback, who starts on a run around right end. The fullback, right tackle and right end, assisted by the left tackle and quarterback, make up the interference, all of whom go around right end between the right half and the line of scrimmage. The left halfback goes to the rear of the fullback and follows the right half closely, say about four feet behind and about three feet farther from the scrimmage line. At a favorable point opposite the position of the opposing left end, when the right half fears that he will be tackled and downed, he passes the ball back under his right arm to the left half, who, watching for the play, stretches out his arms to receive the ball. Now the right half lunges at the nearest opponent to save the left half as much opposition as possible, and the left half continues on a wide circle around right end.

In diagram No. 1 the foregoing play is illustrated in detail.

Another double pass trick is frequently termed the crisscross and is executed as follows:

The right half receives the ball from the quarter and starts as though to go around left end or through left tackle. The left half stands still in his usual position at the rear and to the left of the quarter. As the right half goes by him (between him and the line) the right half passes the ball back to the left half; the latter, aided by the interference of the quarter and the fullback, goes around right end or through right tackle.

The right half continues on around left end so as to cause the opposing team to think the ball to be still in his possession. See diagram No. 2.

Still another double pass is that in which the fullback drops back as though to kick. The ball is passed to him, but instead of kicking he plunges straight at the line. The right halfback stands close to the quarterback's position, and the fullback as he hits the line turns his back to it and passes the ball back to the waiting right half, who runs around either end, usually the left.

The quarterback run is a simple trick. When the quarterback receives the ball from the center he dashes through either tackle or around either end, aided by strong interference. He must cross the line of scrimmage not less than five yards from the point where the ball was snapped back or else the run will not be allowed.

The fake kick is useful and disconcerting. The fullback drops back as though to kick. He receives the ball, but instead of kicking he dashes around either end, going very wide of the position of the opposing end man. Good interference must be supplied by the other backs, tackles and ends.

To perform the startling trick known as hurdling the line, perfected by Harold Weekes, the sensational Columbia halfback of a few years ago, have one of the guards crouch very low as the ball is snapped back. The back receiving the ball leaps forward and on to the back of the guard and springs high in the air over his opponents' heads into their territory.

A STRIKING SAMPLE OF FALSE CAMPAIGN CRIES.

One of the campaign cries most lately forced upon the people by the Anti-Saloon-Anti-Sumptuary combine is a weird false alarm that the people "may expect to see the bench of the state, especially the common pleas bench, become a menace to, instead of a conservator of the most sacred rights of citizens." Horrible to contemplate! Terrible, it true!

To prove it, the hard-worked and universal scarecrow of the campaign is dragged in. "Any old thing" that can be said about George Cox is counted good enough to catch votes, without the remotest reference to its having an iota of truth. To quote this pipe dream in its own words, we read: "For some reason, known to himself, George B. Cox of Cincinnati, for years has been engaged in the passage of judicial gerrymandering bills. Less than 20 years ago there were about as many judicial subdivisions in the state giving Democratic as Republican majorities. Today they are so constructed that over 90 per cent of them contain Republican majorities."

When one particle of proof can be produced that stands fire for the Cox part of this story, that evidence may be considered for what it may be worth. Every chance is that it is no more true than the rest of the fabrications in the sense sought to be conveyed. The intent to deceive is evident. The deception designed lies in the insinuation that legislative action changed the political complexion of judicial districts by the wholesale all over the state. The real reason will be found in the election returns in Ohio since the Democratic party was last in power and slumped to its present low estate.

"Less than 20 years ago there were about as many" counties "in the state giving Democratic majorities." Even so. Sometimes the Democrats carried more of the 88 counties than did the Republicans "less than 20 years ago," but that has not happened in Ohio since McKinley defeated Lawrence T. Neal for governor in 1893 by 81,000.

"Today they (the counties) are so constructed that over 90 per cent of them contain Republican majorities." The proportion is not quite 90 per cent in number by counties, but Roosevelt last November did carry 71 of the 88 counties. Worse than that for the Democrats is the fact that Parker's total plurality in the 17 counties that he carried amounted to only 10,495, in all, or 617 to a county. On the other hand, Roosevelt's 71 counties gave him an aggregate of 265,916 plurality, or an average of 37,152 for each county. All this was done, too, without a change in county lines for half a century.

Such facts show the absurdity of the Democratic assertions about any system of judicial gerrymander. Yet it may mean more than appears upon the surface. Should the slander campaign succeed, this judiciary clamor would make a pretty pretext for just such Democratic schemes to try to capture judicial districts.

SHALL SAD REVERSES BE REPEATED?

"Peace and prosperity succinctly express the results of an eventful week," says Dun's 1st of September report, also adding:

"Leading branches of manufacture are increasing productive capacity, especially in departments pertaining to railway equipment; textile mills have little idle machinery; footwear factories are running freely, while in structural work there is no evidence of lessened activity. Visiting buyers still throng the great jobbing centers and place orders for distant delivery that testify to faith in a vigorous demand for consumers.

"Railway earnings thus far available for August show an increase of 4.8 per cent over last year's, and foreign commerce at this port for the last week exhibited gains of $1,592,032 in exports, and $1,052,622 in imports, as compared with 1904.

"Iron and steel production increased in response to the broadening demand, extensive plans for enlarged facilities being contemplated, and in structural shapes pressure for prompt shipment."

Fewer failures and less liabilities are also reported. In all directions the railroads are arranging for rolling stock to carry the almost unprecedented crops, and many of them seriously fear a car famine. Every such statement recalls what was read everywhere when Harrison was president and the Democrats were sandbagging him out of re-election with the same old cry of "We must have a change."

They are now using it against Herrick, saying, "This is only a state election." Why, then, did the Democrats magnify as the first plank of their Ohio platform this year the identical free trade doctrine upon which they then elected Grover Cleveland? It is almost the only thing left of that Cleveland platform of 1892, which, when it succeeded, helped most of all to precipitate the panic of 1893, and all the hard times that came with it. Considering the continuous contrast between that Democratic adversity and present Republican prosperity, every man who wants to keep on the safe side will stand by the Republican party, and particularly by the head of its ticket whose failure or success is the sole signal to other states of the sentiment of the state of Hanna and McKinley.

Two Teams Fight For Pennant

National League Race Has Become a Duel Between New York and Pittsburg --- Bitter Rivalry --- McGraw and Post Season Series.

Captain-Manager Fred Clarke's Pittsburg Pirates and Captain-Manager Johnny McGraw's New York Giants are now fighting merrily for the National league pennant. The battle is waging hotter and hotter, and rivalry has risen to such a pitch that the teams are willing to bet large sums on the outcome.

McGraw is confident. Clarke is hopeful. Both men are field generals of the highest type. Each believes that he can outwit the other when it comes to a tight pinch.

The New York players have chipped in and formed a pool of $10,000 to bet on their own chances.

"We will bet $10,000 to $7,000 that we win," says the treasurer of the "poolers." "We feel so sure that if we did succeed in placing the money we would do so with tears in our eyes at the trustfulness and easiness of the takers of the short end of the proposition."

During the latter part of the campaign the Pittsburgs have braced considerably and have outshone their early season form.

Manager McGraw is indignant over the stories that the Giants would not, if they won the pennant, play a world's series owing to dissatisfactory terms. Said he recently: "Please say for me that we will play for the championship, should we win the National league, no matter what are the conditions. I sincerely believe that the players have been shabbily treated in regard to the division of the receipts but we will be there when the time comes to play.

"I don't blame the players in the American league for kicking at the financial conditions. The losers will hardly get more than a suit of clothes each.

"I have never been opposed to this post season series," he continued. "I never said I was opposed to it. It is not true that I consulted the boys about the financial arrangements for the fights, but it is true that dissatisfaction exists in regard to these arrangements."

STRIKING PAY DIRT

Inquisitor Hughes Squeezes Insurance Secrets From Reluctant Witnesses.

JACOB H. SCHIFF ON DEFENSIVE

Equitable Director and Dealer In Bonds Blames It All on Hyde—Big Three Pooled Issues in "Watching" Various State Legislatures.

New York, Sept. 30.—The legislative committee on the insurance investigation adjourned until next Wednesday. It has concluded a week in which greater progress had been made than in any week since the investigation was begun. During the afternoon session, when Alfred W Maine, an associate auditor of the Equitable Life Assurance society, was called to the stand, it was disclosed that the Equitable Life, the Mutual Life and the New York Life companies had formed a pool to look after legislation by the various state legislatures. Andrew Hamilton, to whom President McCall of the New York Life paid several checks the purpose of which the counsel for the committee, Mr. Hughes, has not yet brought to light, was one of the chief members of the legal staff for these companies and was employed and received money for services from the Equitable.

Mr. Maine told of the division of the country to be looked after by Mr. Hamilton, in conjunction with E. L. Short and W. P. Thummel. Witness presented vouchers for moneys paid by his company to Mr. Hamilton, and these showed that in eight years, from 1895 to 1903, the sum of $65,596 was paid to Mr. Hamilton for legal services. Mr. Maine could not give any details of the duties performed by Mr. Hamilton nor of the committees he appeared before beyond the fact that Mr. Hamilton looked after legislative matters for all three companies in the states west of Ohio.

Three Companies Share Expense.

Witness told of an agreement whereby special counsel was employed by one company in its territory and the expense was shared by all. He was asked if campaign contributions came under his observation, and he replied they did not. He never heard of money being paid to influence legislators.

Not the least important development of the day was the appearance on the stand of Jacob H. Schiff head of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. Mr. Schiff was the first witness of the day, and he remained on the stand until 2 o'clock. Mr. Schiff had been waiting in the committee's session chamber for a day and a half, being under subpoena, and when the usual time for recess arrived Mr. Schiff desired to proceed, as he had an engagement for the afternoon.

Mr. Hughes explained the situation to the committee, and it was agreed to continue until Mr. Schiff had concluded his testimony. Most of the time Mr. Schiff reclined leisurely in the chair on the witness stand, but as one point after another was brought out he grew excited, and vigorously defended his attitude while a director of the Equitable society, and claimed his firm had acted in a conscientious manner in all its dealings with the society.

Mr. Schiff Makes Statement.

At the conclusion of his testimony, and before the committee could adjourn, Mr. Schiff asked to be allowed to make a statement. He was permitted, and he stepped briskly forward on the platform toward a small table and made an impassioned attack on the state superintendent of insurance and statements he had made concerning Kuhn, Loeb & Co. during the investigation of the Equitable. Mr. Schiff emphasized his remarks with rappings on the table, and frequently he raised his voice until it was almost a shout. During his testimony, too, Mr. Schiff made the charge that the minutes of the finance committee regarding a certain meeting were false. He later qualified this, however, by saying if the transaction under consideration, one in Union Pacific preferred, was actually made, he did not hear of it, though he was present at the meeting. Again, during his testimony regarding the power of the finance committee of the Equitable society, Mr. Schiff waxed warm in his explanation and said that the entire committee was at the mercy of one man.

Blames Everything on Hyde.

"It was all Hyde," said Mr. Schiff; "all Hyde and Alexander. Mr. Hyde wrote the messages regarding the offers made by my firm for participation in syndicates; Mr. Hyde signed all the receipts; Mr. Hyde wrote all the letters."

In the matter of the James H. Hyde and associates' syndicate Mr. Schiff hotly accused Mr. Hyde of trying to shield himself. He said the position of a director in the Equitable was that of a negligible quantity and that the directors were mere figure-heads. He said, further, that he had never asked any favors of the Equitable society. "I have granted many favors," he said; "I have not done, as a director of the Equitable, any wrong of commission. I may have done some of omission. It is a case of hindsight and not one of foresight. But my conscience frees me of my bond. I have been as good a director as I knew how to be, and I did my duty."

MILLIONAIRE A SUICIDE.

William R. Travers of New York Blows His Brains Out.

New York, Sept. 30.—William R. Travers, a millionaire of leisure, son of the celebrated wit and Wall street operator, William R. Travers, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head in his apartments in Madison avenue. The suicide is inexplicable, Mr. Travers being in the prime of life, in fair health and the possessor of a large fortune.

Mr. Travers married Miss Lily Harriman, a sister of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. The couple separated three years ago, Mrs. Travers going to Paris to live. Mr. Travers was an uncle of Mrs. Clarence Mackay. He had two sisters, Mrs. James Wadsworth of Genesee, N. Y., and Mrs. Walter Gay, living in Paris. Since his separation from his wife he had lived entirely alone with the care of his valet, Martin Moon.

When Mr. Travers rose in the morning he appeared to be in excellent spirits, and after breakfast told his valet that he would not require his services during the day. Shortly after noon a maid found Mr. Travers lying dead on his bed with a revolver by his side. He had placed the muzzle of the weapon in his mouth, sending a bullet through his brain. He left several letters all relating to business affairs and giving no clue to the cause of the suicide.

JOURNEYING TO FUSAN.

Emperor of Korea Showers Gifts Upon American Visitors.

Seoul, Korea Sept. 30.—Miss Alice Roosevelt and party left Seoul by special train for Fusan. Owing to the damage done by the recent rains the trip to Fusan will take two days. The party stopped last night at the Presbyterian mission at Taiku, and today will reach Fusan, whence they will go to Simonoseki and Yokohama. The visit to Japan will be entirely private. Miss Roosevelt will decline any public recognition or hospitality.

The emperor of Korea received Miss Roosevelt in farewell audience and presented her with his photograph to which was affixed his autograph. The Koreans made every effort to make Miss Roosevelt's 10-days visit pleasant. On Wednesday she and her party visited the tomb of the late queen. The road leading there was especially widened and re-laid, and the highways for miles outside the city were repaired in anticipation of Miss Roosevelt wishing to ride over them. The emperor gave valuable presents to the whole party, including tiger skins, silver and brassware and embroideries, and extended to them every possible courtesy in order to show his friendliness for Americans.

MORGAN IS LORD MAYOR.

For 500th Time Ancient London Ceremony Is Enacted.

London Sept. 30.—Alderman Walter Vaughan Morgan was elected lord mayor of London for the ensuing year. Mr. Morgan is a septugenarian, a banker and a bachelor. He was educated at the Bluecoat school and is a prominent Freemason.

Prior to the election of the retiring lord mayor, John Pound, the sheriffs and the corporation paid their annual visit to the Church of St. Lawrence Jewry. This observance dates from 1406, when Whittington was elected for the second term. So for the five hundredth time the quaint custom was observed of presenting the vicar of the church with a bottle of sherry and inviting him to dine at the Mansion house to celebrate the election of the new chief magistrate.

EVERY-DAY VALENTINES.

Art on Postcards to Be Regulated by Postmasters.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Acting Postmaster-General Hitchcock in a circular to postmasters has called attention to the rule which bars from the mails every card bearing a picture or language that is obscene, indecent or improperly suggestive, and has constituted every postmaster a judge of this character of art. If there is doubt as to the indecency of the card Mr. Hitchcock is to act as the highest court.

The use of the mails for pictorial cards has become so extensive that the department says it has extended the comic valentine season over the entire year. Most of the complaints come from persons who have been the recipients of vulgar cards mailed anonymously.

Kaiser Gracious to Witte.

Berlin, Sept. 30.—The National Zeitung's St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs his paper as follows: M. Witte told me that Emperor William said to him: "I accord you the same honor as I would a crowned head. You have accomplished extraordinary things, and I congratulate Russia on the possession of such a man. If monarchs had many such true servants then one would think better of monarchs."

Dynamite Makes Hole 110 Feet Deep.

Port Said, Egypt, Sept. 30.—The forepart of the wreck of the British steamer Chatham which was blown up by her cargo of 90 tons of dynamite, has entirely disappeared, but the stern must be further demolished by dynamite. There is a hole 110 feet deep at the spot where the wreck rested.

Too Busy to Go Shooting.

Vienna, Sept. 30.—Emperor Francis Joseph has given up his usual autumn shooting excursion and will remain in Vienna to deal with the Hungarian situation.

CHEERS IN A CHURCH

Evoked by Surgeon General of Japanese Navy Declaring Himself a Christian.

GREAT AUDIENCE GOES WILD

Sensational Scene Occurs at Railroad Y. M. C. A. Convention at Detroit—Modest Soldier-Doctor Escapes by Rear Door From Admirers.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 30.—Intensely dramatic was the moment when Surgeon-General Suzuki of the Japanese navy, fresh from the battles of the Japan and Yellow seas, declared with affecting earnestness and sincerity before the railroad Y. M. C. A. international convention that he had been for 20 years a Christian. Very proudly he added that his wife and five children shared his belief. Tears dimmed many eyes when the distinguished Japanese surgeon told broKenly of the drowning of another child, his 12-year-old daughter, just two days before he had himself been called into the thick of the recent fighting.

HELEN GOULD.

He had not urged the question of religion in his family, he said having trusted it to the guidence of God. His eldest son had been the first to become a convert, having been interested at first through an accidental visit to a Christian meeting while walking along the streets of Tokio. Next the wife had been converted through the influence of her son, and all the family had followed in the steps of these two.

Believes in Future Life.

Struggling to control his emotion General Suzuki declared his faith in the Christian belief of the future life, saying of his little daughter whom he mourned, "I believe she has gone to our own kingdom."

Further evidencing his high conception of the beauty and power of the Christian religion, Gen. Suzuki credited the missionaries to Japan with becoming broader and broader in their views. "Those who came first," he said, "were too deeply concerned about outward appearances. It was a mistake for them to ask at the very outset, 'Do you smoke? Do you drink? Do you go to church?' For we know now that when one has really entered the church he will naturally give up the things that are evil. We want you to send to us good men who will convert our hearts and show us the real meaning of Christianity.

"Japan is supposed to be a non-Christian country, but there are many men, women and children in Nippon trying to be faithful to the right and to God. I myself was baptized 20 years ago. I cannot say that I am a good Christian, but I am a Christian."

Audience Is Electrified.

Gen. Suzuki's earnest words electrified the convention. The audience was wild in its outbursts of applause. It was probably the first time that cheers had resounded in the Central Methodist Episcopal church, one of the oldest and largest houses of worship in Detroit.

The distinguished Japanese was the last speaker at the afternoon session, but the audience did not turn toward the door when he finished. With one impulse, delegates and spectators struggled to get nearer to the uniformed, swarthy foreigner, who stood behind the preacher's desk. Gen. Suzuki looked about him perplexed. There was the making of a panic in the mob that was struggling all around him. It was necessary for John J. McCook of New York, who had been presiding, to conduct the besieged speaker through a rear door to the street.

Helen Gould Holds Reception.

Other features of the railroad Y. M. C. A. convention were a reception by Miss Helen M. Gould to about 150 employes of the Gould railway system and a mass meeting in the evening at Light Guard armory. Noonday meetings were held at 41 factories, and were attended by about 8,000 men. Among the speakers were E. T. Colton, New York; J. G. Cannon, vice president of the Fourth National bank, New York; G. W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad; W. A. Garrett, general manager of the Queen & Crescent railroad and H. B. F. MacFarland, commissioner of the District of Columbia.

Preparing to Receive the Prince.

Washington, Sept. 30.—By direction of the president the state and navy departments have begun the preparation of plans for the reception in this country of Prince Louis of Battenburg. The English squadron under the command of the prince, will arrive at Annapolis Nov. 1, remaining there until the 7th or 8th, when it will sail for New York, arriving there on the 9th and remaining in New York until Nov. 17, when the squadron will sail for Gibraltar. During the stay of the squadron at Annapolis the prince will be received by the president.

WRECK AT BRISCOE, W. VA.

Through Misunderstanding of Orders 17 Persons Are Injured.

Marietta, O., Sept. 30.—Through a misunderstanding of orders a serious wreck occurred at Briscoe W. Va., on the Parkersburg & Marietta Interurban line, in which Motorman Thomas Johnson was fatally hurt and 16 others seriously injured by a collision between a passenger and baggage car on a curve.

The injured: Thomas Johnson, Marietta; Conductor Phelps, Charles Shields, Frankfort, O.; Charles Johnson, Kellars, W. Va.; H. E. Grubb, Beverly O.; Mrs Pugh Kellars W. Va.; Elsie Meister, Marietta; Greene Ruttencutter, Belmont, W. Va.; W. H. Weaver, Elizabeth, W. Va.; Wilbert E. Dare, Parkersburg; Miss Mary Dare, Parkersburg; Harry Bernie George Barker, Erieville, Pa.; Bailey H. Parker, Girard, Kan.; Lewis Pfeiffer, Marietta.

Four others whose names could not be learned were also bruised. The hurt were rushed to the hospitals at Parkersburg and Marietta, where their injuries were dressed.

The wildest commotion prevailed when the cars struck. Many of the passengers saw the baggage car rounding the curve and they attempted to jump, but were not quick enough. Motorman Johnson stuck to his post and he received the most serious injuries. He no doubt, saw the car first and could have jumped if he had so desired. Conductor Davidson of the southbound car told to notify the crew of the north bound car that the biggest car was following.

ATTORNEYS PAID OFF.

Large Slice of Chadwick Assets Goes to Legal Sharps.

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—In the United States district court Judge Taft approved the allowances made by Referee in Bankruptcy Remington in the matter of fees for the receiver and attorneys for Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick.

The amount of Chadwick assets which passed through the hands of the officers of the bankruptcy courts was $61,809, of which $36,800 was distributed among secured creditors leaving a balance of $25,000 to be distributed among general creditors. Nathan Loeser, as receiver, asked for $2,500, and he was awarded $755. Loeser, as trustee, also asked for $758, and this amount was allowed.

L. J. Grossman and Smith & Taft as Loeser's attorneys, wanted $5,070 and they were allowed $4,070. Jay P. Dawley, S. Q. Kerruish and A. Burt Thompson, as Mrs. Chadwick's attorneys, had a bill in for $2,019, and they were allowed $200.

The laces imported by Mrs. Chadwick and which were seized by the United States custom authorities for unpaid duties and later redeemed by Nathan Loeser, trustee, were sold in the United States court by the latter to a Chicago firm.

NEGRO BOY SUSPECTED.

Mother and Four Children Are Buried in One Grave.

Houston, Texas, Sept. 30.—The bodies of Mrs. A. J. Conditt, her 13-year-old daughter and three sons, aged 6, 8 and 10 respectively, who were murdered near Edna, Texas, by a negro were interred in a single grave.

The discovery of a bloody axe, with which the crime was committed, and a bundle of discarded clothing, found by bloodhounds a short distance from the scene of the tragedy, are the only clues left by the murderer. However, as a result of suspicion against Hank Gibson, a 17-year-old negro boy who was working in a nearby field and who gave the first alarm, his home was searched and a table cloth with a bundle of bloody clothing was found concealed between the covers of a bed. If Mr. Conditt, the husband, is able to identify the articles the negro will probably be lynched.

Uncle Samuel Wins First Round.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Federal Judge J. Otis Humphrey has sustained the demurrer filed by United States District Attorney Morrison to the plea in abatement made by packers seeking to have indictments for alleged restraint of trade declared void. Judge Humphrey said he made his decision on broad grounds without taking into consideration technicalities which the government advanced against the plea in abatement.

Going Back to the White House.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Sept. 30.—President Roosevelt spent the last day of his summer sojourn at Sagamore Hill in preparation for his departure for Washington. After devoting a couple of hours to his official correspondence he passed the remainder of the day about the house and grounds giving directions as to their care. The president, Mrs. Roosevelt and their children will leave for Washington today.

Supreme Council Wins One Case.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 30.—In the action of W. Barlow against the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum to restrain the order from increasing its rates, Justice Street has declared the defendants were within their rights in making the changes which are therefore binding on the plaintiff.

Suicide Agreement Suspected.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The dead body of Mrs. Nellie West Long was found in a room at the Burlington hotel. She had committed suicide with morphine. Bert Grimm, her fiance, who was with her, is under arrest charged with having entered into a suicide compact with the woman.

WILL USE TRICKERY

Former Senator Chandler Says Railroads Are Arrayed Against Roosevelt.

ANYTHING TO BEAT RATE BILL

Alleged Friendly Amendments to Esch-Townsend Bill Will Be Favorite Scheme to Destroy Its Effectiveness if It Should Become Law.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 30.—In a series of open letters to Edward A. Moseley of the Interstate commerce commission, former Senator William E. Chandler of New Hampshire defines his attitude toward the Esch-Townsend rate bill, to come before congress at its next session and calls to the attention of the commission some of the dangers that beset the attempts to pass this bill, as they appear to him.

Mr. Chandler lays great stress upon the attitude of the railroad companies and says the methods of defeating the measure to be put forward next winter will be by dangerous amendments or additions to the Esch-Townsend bill "under the guise of friendly improvements, but really as a railroad trick."

Mr. Chandler says further: "You cannot repeatedly secure a law upon a point that has both houses of congress, which would make it impossible for transportation rates fixed by the commission to be checked immediately and practically forever until reversed by the court of review when Mr. Samuel Spencer in behalf of the railroads has appealed [illegible] will not permit delay of this sort for three years."

Mr. Chandler's letter favors the giving of "power to the commission to substitute in a particular case a rate or price which in their judgment is just or reasonable in the place of one judged by them to be unjust or unreasonable," and the enactment of "statutes which provide that a rate of transportation once fixed by the authority shall remain perpetually in force thereafter until changed by commission or by court."

Mr. Chandler further says that 13,000 millions of capital, representing 210,000 miles of railroad are arrayed against the president in his attempt to pass rate legislation. He also charges that by furnishing free transportation the railroads will attempt to corrupt legislatures, congress and the whole state and national government. Mr. Chandler asserts that lawyers, ministers of the gospel and newspapers are especially cared for by the railroads, notwithstanding that the system is grossly illegal, and closes his last letter with an appeal to the American people to help the president.

FARMERS COMPLAINING.

Accuse Harvester Trust of Violating Laws of Buckeye State.

Columbus, O., Sept. 30.—Announcement is made that Attorney General Ellis is to investigate the harvester trust in Ohio, and if he finds that the trust is violating the Ohio anti trust law, will oust it from the state.

Mr. Ellis received a petition signed by W. C. Cly and others, including many farmers near Millersburg, asking him to bring action in quo warranto or criminal procedure or both that will bring relief from the oppression and monoplistic prices forced upon farmers by the International Harvester company. The petition goes on to recite that the McCormick Harvester company, the Deering Harvester company, the Plano Manufacturing company, and Warder Bushnell & Glessner combined, and their capital stock is deposited with G. W. Perkins, Charles Deering and C. H. McCormick of Chicago as trustees.

The attorney general replied in brief as follows: "Answering your respectful communication, I shall immediately commence an investigation of the so-called harvester trust and its method of business, and if it is violating the terms of the Ohio anti-trust act or any other law I shall file the necessary suit to dissolve such trust and to protect the purchasers of the commodities referred to from any combination operating to control prices thereof."

Osborne Bank Robber Caught.

Springfield, O., Sept. 30.—A man giving his name as Harry Smith, but who is believed to be Joe Knipper, the Dayton crook and safeblower was arrested on a traction car near Tippecanoe. He had a bottle partly filled with nitroglycerin, and a pistol identified as the one owned by the cashier of the Osborne, O., bank. It is believed he is the leader of the gang which blew open the bank at Osborne. He is in jail.

Locomotive Boiler Blows Up.

Cleveland, Sept. 30.—The crown sheet on a locomotive hauling a west bound freight on the Pennsylvania railroad blew out and badly scalded the engineer, J. H. Blackburn; the fireman, S. T. Brennan, and the brakeman, J. S. Flaze, all of Cleveland.

Tornado Razes a Town.

Cape Town, Cape Colony, Sept. 30.—A tornado struck Malmesbury, a town of 3,000 inhabitants 36 miles from here, and reduced it to ruins. A number of persons were killed.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Summary of Business Conditions Throughout the Country.

New York, Sept. 30.—Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says this morning: Lower temperature stimulates retail trade, and fall openings are largely attended, but the weather is not cold enough to menace late crops that are maturing most satisfactorily. Certainty of a successful season on the farms contributes more than any other single factor to the confidence that is felt in all sections of the country. Comparatively little new grain has been marketed thus far, which is largely due to the planting of winter wheat and other preparations for next year that are unusually extensive.

Manufacturing activity is fully maintained the leading industries having contracts assuring little idle machinery during the balance of the year, and it is probable that more business will be carried over into 1906 than at the opening of any previous year. The growing disposition for distant delivery testifies to the well-nigh universal faith that no setback will be experienced. Railway traffic reports suggest that more rolling stock and motive power could be used if obtainable, as is customary at this season.

Money is a little firmer, but there is no stringency, and gold imports were checked by higher rates of foreign exchange. Mercantile collections improve as the season advances.

GAYNOR AND GREENE SUBMIT TO INEVITABLE

Montreal, Sept. 30.—George F. White, United States consul for the southern district of Georgia and Joseph W. Fowler, district attorney, have arrived here to take Col. Gaynor and Capt. Greene back to Savannah for trial on charges of defrauding the United States government. They brought warrants bearing the signature of President Roosevelt and will remain here until the extradition papers arrive from Ottawa. The latest news from Ottawa states that the signature of the minister of justice has not yet been affixed to the warrant of surrender. There will be no further action by the lawyers for the defense as far as any appeal from Judge Ouimet's decision is concerned.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Discovered this Week by Independent Investigators.

Mrs. William Patterson, of Beacon, Pa., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Matilda Featheringham, in Clay street. This is Mrs. Patterson's first visit to Massillon in five years.

Amos D. Cook, who wandered away from the Massillon state hospital a few days ago, was brought back Friday. His home is in Warren, and he was found in that part of the state.

Thirty friends gave Mr. and Mrs. Amiel Sonndregger a surprise at their home in Cherry street Thursday evening, the occasion being the first anniversary of their marriage. Refreshments were served.

The funeral of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Debos was held from the family home in North alley at 1 o'clock Saturday, the Rev. O. P. Foust officiating. Interment was made in the Massillon cemetery.

Mrs A. C Dieterich met with a distressing accident at her residence in South East street Saturday afternoon She slipped and fell on the steps leading from the porch to the sidewalk, fracturing an arm and leg

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary A. Bushman was held Saturday at 3:30 o'clock from the home of the deceased's daughter, Mrs. Etta Black, in Duncan street, the Rev. S. K. Mahon officiating. Interment was made in the Massillon cemetery.

The funeral of the late Jacob Lutz was held from the residence of the deceased's daughter, Mrs. Adam Miller, three miles west of Massillon, Friday afternoon, the Rev. N. E. Moffit officiating. Interment was made in the West Brookfield cemetery.

Mrs Ida Bowman has raised a very prince of red peppers in her garden one and one half miles north of the city. She sent it in to the Independent office Saturday afternoon for inspection It is fifteen and a half inches in circumference and of a smoothness and redness that beggars description.

Twenty five young people were entertained by Mrs. George Berkemier at her residence in Dielhenn street Friday evening in honor of the sixteenth birthday anniversary of her son, Albert Berkemier. The latter received a number of handsome gifts. The birthday party was a complete surprise.

H. C. Dyson, formerly an attendant at the Massillon state hospital, and a member of the base ball team at that institution, now connected with the office department of the Ohio Steel Works at Youngstown, visited his old friends here Friday and Saturday, returning to Youngstown Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. W. K. L. Warwick, formerly of Massillon, and her son, John G. Warwick, reached New York yesterday by the steamer Liguria from Naples, and are spending several days with Mrs. George Darr at Greenwich, Conn., before returning to Pittsburg. They have been guests of Mrs. Warwick's sister, Mrs. C. L. Magee, at the latter's country home, Castel Gandolfo, near Rome.

MULE WHACKERS' PICNIC.

Their Second Annual Gathering a Great Success.

The mule whackers of Mudbrook mine and their invited guests to the number of a hundred or more held their second annual picnic at the Andy Wentzel farm near McDonaldsville, Sunday, September 24. "Doc" Weller, "Root" Domro and "O. N. T." Clark Jackson were the committee in charge and left no stone unturned to make the affair a most enjoyable one. Refreshments of all kinds were dispensed with a lavish hand. An elaborate programme of sports was carried out and an orchestra, including Charles Pahlau, Bert Albright, "Jap" Richeimer, Theodore Baatz, "Specky" Herman, Lincoln Domro and Mr. Slimmer, discoursed sweet music between acts.

A miniature railroad representing a mine track was built on a vacant field and the whackers indulged in all kinds of fancy stunts, "slewing" cars, sticking in "sprags," etc. "Schimke" Crookston and his mule "Suse" scored the most points and consequently carried away the prize, silver plated "fob chain." "Doc" Weller next entertained the audience with a solo entitled "Was You Ever in a Boat?" A tug-of-war between the "Midway" drivers and those working in the "New Found Out" was called a draw after about five minutes of hard work on account of the "Midway" fellows missing "Skinny" Hodgson's leg for the rope, which they stretched to such an extent that he was as if he had a flat wheel. Well, "Skinny" says he'll get the first one he has had his eye on. "Jap" Pontz next sang the touching ballad, "I Want My Little August." "Eddy" Herman gave an excellent exhibition of the proper way to throw the "spit ball" as thrown by the invincible Jack Chesbro. Next was a race for mules, one half mile, each mule to be ridden by its respective driver. There were three entries, "S. Fishhook" Kemp and his mule "Bony," "Chase" Dewalt and "Daisy" and "Lincoln" Domro with "Cappy." Kemp won out by a nose and carried away the prize, a driving pad with gold buckles. This was a bareback race and Mr. Kemp has been telling his friends on the quiet that he would have been better pleased had the committee furnished the prize before the race. A quartette composed of "Doc" Weller, "Cheesy" Kroschinski, "Root" Domro and "Toady" Herman sang a song entitled "How Many Cars Do You Want Today?" "Walter P. O. It" Hoover did a fancy stunt with an ax. He still has a rag on the index finger of his left hand. "Big Dave" Dewalt addressed the audience upon the subject of "A Trapper's Obligations to a Driver." He impressed upon the minds of all present, and particularly the trappers, how smoothly we can glide through life from one position to another better if we only keep enough oil upon ourselves, and incidentally oil up others a little. Speeches upon various subjects pertaining to mining and driving were also delivered by "Boots", Hodgson, Sam. Howe, Jacob Nevel and others.

It was decided to hold the next annual reunion one year hence at this place. The day's festivities closed with a song by the quartette entitled "She Squibbed," after which everybody departed for their various homes feeling that it was a day well spent.

THREE HUNDRED FISH.

They Were Received at the State Hospital Saturday.

Three hundred bass and sunfish were received at the Massillon state hospital Saturday to be placed in the ponds on the grounds, and this was done during the day. The fish came from the hatchery at London and are sent out under the direction of the state fish and game department.

DRIVE IT OUT.

No One Can be Well if Kidney Poison is Polluting the Blood.

When the kidneys are sick, the blood is bad and you can't be well until the kidneys are cured. Sick kidneys cause backache, headache, urinary troubles, dizziness, tiredness and sleeplessness. Cure the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's one of the Massillon cures made by this remedy.

J. E Clark, of 54 North Mill street, Civil War Veteran, says: "Some time in the summer of 1900 I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Baltzly's drug store, took a course of the treatment and found them most efficient in relieving me. I can just as confidently recommend them to-day as I did when I first allowed my opinion to be expressed through our Massillon papers. I have had recurrences during the time that has elapsed and it is a pleasure to know of a remedy that can be depended upon when such recurrences take place. I have friends who have used them and who think there is nothing like Doan's Kidney Pills as a cure for backache."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. The unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists in fifty cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free. Send to Home of Swamp-Root. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for pamphlet telling all about it, and how to find out if you have kidney trouble. Mention reading this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

March over pain. Burns, cuts, sprains, stings. Instant relief. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. At any drug store.

Only one remedy in the world that will at once stop itchiness of the skin in any part of the body. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Dangerous Vertigo.

Dizziness or Swimming of the Head, Associated With a Sense of Fullness. Dull Pain or Nervous Sick Headache is a Certain Indication of an Oncoming Apoplexy or Paralysis.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS

If the person subject to attack of dizziness or swimming of the head, commonly called vertigo, would only stop to realize that these symptoms are not a disease in themselves, not temporary ailments, but the plainest sort of warnings from nature of grave troubles of deeper origin, of an exhausted nervous system or of an oncoming apoplexy, epilepsy or paralysis, the matter would receive prompt attention. Dr. A. W. Chase knew this and provided the cure in his celebrated Nerve Pill, a medicine that brings back the glow of health and strength by its power to furnish just what the ill fed, half starved nervous system needs, good, rich, wholesome blood and nerve force or energy.

Mr. E. Smith, of No. 1 Union Street, Troy, N. Y, Says:

"I used to suffer constantly from nervous headache and dizzy spells. They came on at any time and in any place—I never was safe from them—stooping over always resulted in vertigo—my head pained me as well I got a box of DR A W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS and they cured the trouble rapidly, easily and completely It is the best medicine I ever took. I am as sound as a dollar again in every particular and glad to recommend it to any one in a similar condition as a safe and certain cure." 50c a box at dealers or Dr A. W Chase Medicine Co, Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait of A. W. Chase, M. D., on every package. For sale by E. S. Craig, druggist, Massillon, O.

A boon to travelers Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Cures dysentery, diarrhœa, seasickness, nausea. Pleasant to take. Acts promptly.

Mistakes Attract Attention.

The average person takes pleasure in calling attention to errors in spelling or grammar in signs. The mistakes furnish them a temptation to display their knowledge that is hard to resist. "Every now and then," said a local haberdasher, "I fix up a window sign with a misspelled word or an error in grammar in it. Dozens of people drop in to tell me where it's wrong. Of course I act surprised and thank them. Then the chances are I sell them something." At a Kansas City theater there used to be an advertising curtain which bore the word "versus" spelled "verses." The word attracted more comment than many of the acts did. It made people talk about the theater, and in the theatrical business to get the public to talking about things is the first step toward money making. So many people began to bother the house manager about the misspelled word, however, that he finally had to have it changed.—Kansas City Times.

Would Have to Be Crazy.

"Did you examine the house, sir?" asked the real estate agent.

"Yes," replied Kaustick, returning the keys.

"Well, we'll make the rent low to the right party."

"My dear sir, there couldn't be such a thing. No party who was right would rent that house."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A HISTORIC VOLUME.

The Bible Used by the United States Supreme Court.

Kept securely under lock and key in the supreme court room at Washington there is a small Oxford Bible around which cluster many notable and historic incidents. It was printed at Oxford in 1739, first came into the court's service in 1808 and is believed to be one of the 20,000 imported by congress a few years before. During its court career this volume has been called into service every day on which the august tribunal has held session.

The great constitutional lawyers of the formative period of our government as a prerequisite of their admission to practice before this learned body kissed its material face.

Besides these great legal lights every associate and chief justice, with the exception of Chief Justice Chase, who had a Bible of his own, and every lawyer except Daniel Webster, sworn to practice before the supreme court bar has taken his oath of allegiance on this little book. It is a tradition of the court that when Daniel Webster came before this high tribunal in his first argument in the defense of the chartered rights of his alma mater, Dartmouth college, against the legislative attacks of New Hampshire, by some strange inadvertence the oath was not administered. The tradition goes further, intimating that the judges were so impressed by the eloquence of his appeal, which stands out today as a classic in legal lore, that they either forgot or dared not mention his dereliction.

It is no wonder that this little Bible is so carefully preserved, endeared as it is with the memories of America's greatest statesmen and jurists. When a president is to be sworn the clerk of the court usually purchases a new Bible, and after the certificate has been affixed he presents it to the first lady of the land.—Leslie's Weekly.
